

Perry County District Library Code of Conduct

The Perry County District Library, recognizing its responsibility to maintain order, has established the following policy and procedures for the interaction of staff with patrons. The purpose of the code of conduct is to:

- Protect the rights of individuals who are in the library to use the library materials and/or services;
- Protect the rights of staff members to conduct library business without interference;
- Ensure the safety of library users and staff;
- Preserve library materials and facilities.

All staff members are authorized and expected to bring to an individual's attention any act or omission that violates this code and detracts from the decorum of the library. Staff members are expected to do this in a courteous and consistent manner.

Individuals will first be alerted to misconduct and asked to change his/her behavior to conform with the code of conduct. If an individual chooses not to adhere to this warning further disciplinary action will be taken. If an individual is asked to leave library property and resists, the police will be called to assist.

Violations of the Library Code of Conduct may result in eviction from the library. Depending on the severity of the misbehavior, an eviction could be for the day (D), one week (1W), two weeks (2W), thirty days (30D), or indefinite (I). The following examples and guidelines are to be used in determining the timeframe of the eviction. These are to be used at the discretion of the staff member who witnessed the misconduct. Eviction from library property may result from actions that include, but are not limited to:

- Leaving a child under age 6 unattended in the library. Library staff cannot assume the responsibility for the supervision of children in the library. (D)
- Conversation that is disturbing to other individuals or employees, which may include the use of cell phones. (D)
